  - University of Maryland
  - University of Oregon

Outcome of the NTACT:C

- All students and youth with disabilities will be prepared to graduate from high school with the knowledge, skills, and supports for postsecondary education, training, employment, and community engagement, with a focus on:
  - enrollment in postsecondary education
  - credential attainment
  - competitive integrated employment
  - community engagement
Participants will be able to:

- Discuss what families need to know about putting this topic into practice and how this applies to the IEP
- Discuss the importance of thoughtful courses of study during transition planning
- Describe how the topic aligns with the Transition Discoveries Guide

Key Reminders

- Transition services must be addressed in the IEP of the student in the year in which the student turns 14 years of age.
- Secondary Transition planning is a coordinated effort, between families and students, schools, and agencies and support services.
- Planning for a successful Secondary Transition begins with a vision
The Secondary Transition Process

• Eight areas of focus
• 2020-21 Secondary Transition Series for Families

The Secondary Transition Process

• Youth and Young Adult Driven ✓
• Outside Agencies Collaborating with Schools & Families ✓

Transition Discoveries

- The Transition Discoveries Guide was developed by collecting voices and experiences from youth, families and stakeholders
- Highlights key elements that make a successful transition from high school to adult life
- Collection of indicators and sub-indicators that can be used as a road map to guide your transition plan
- Tip Sheets and Activities for families, students, and teachers
- Additional Resources
- Website is LIVE! www.transitiondiscoveries.org

Indicators with Courses of Study Components

1. Transition Planning
2. Postsecondary Education and Training
3. Employment
4. Independent Living and Community Engagement
Thoughtful Courses of Study

What are Courses of Study?

- Part of the “coordinated set of activities” that helps students move from high school to identified post-secondary goals
- Support academic and functional achievement
- Meaningful to the student’s future and will motivate them to complete school
Courses of Study should:

- Promote graduation by meeting district standards
- Align with Post-secondary goals
- Include “Programs of Study” at Career Tech Centers
- Be listed by course name used in the LEA’s Program of Studies - not “functional curriculum” or “college prep”
- Reflect current year’s courses

Reviewing a Student’s Courses of Study

- Courses of study may need to be reevaluated at least every year to reflect the student’s growth, and courses should be changed when appropriate.
- Data also needs to be collected annually and updated in the Present Levels section of the IEP.
Planning Ahead

- A good idea would be to have a conversation during the year before high school about the availability of different courses that align with the student’s post-secondary goals.
- Having a proposed 4-year plan for the courses a student will take increases the likelihood the student will achieve their goals.

Thinking Outside the Box

- Kate took a public speaking class in 10th grade
  - She focused on communication skills, articulation, increasing the volume of her speech
- Kate took the same public speaking class in 11th grade
  - Pulled in other objectives: grammar, getting message across, and writing skills, including speeches & short essays
  - Focused on speaking in different venues, outside of class, such as the Pledge of Allegiance at a School Board meeting
- Kate repeated the class for a 3rd time as a Senior in 12th grade
  - Incorporated entire class into Senior Project—a portfolio and 5 min presentation on Photography
